Mrs. Arch Wylie Hostess to Friday Music Club

The Friday Music Club of Hope held its regular monthly meeting on October 23 at the home of Mrs. Arch Wylie. Pretty bronze chrysanthemums were seen in attractive floral arrangements.

After the club collect was led by the president, Mrs. Jewell Moore, Jr., the business meeting was held. The club voted to send a contribution to the Inspiration Point Opera Workshop at Eureka Springs, where music students interested in opera study. They come from Arkansas, Oklahoma, Missouri and Kansas.

Mrs. Arthur Wimmell presented a brief history of the hymn of the month, "Eternal Father Strong to Save." Then, Mrs. James Shuffield sang the hymn, accompanied by Mrs. Wimmell.

"The Life of Helen Traubel" was the subject of the program brought by Mrs. Sam Strong, who took excerpts from Miss Traubel's autobiography, "St. Louis Woman."

Two piano solos, "Lotus Land" by Cyril Scott and "Fantastic Dance" by Shostakovich, were played by Mrs. Jim Edwards, who also accompanied Mrs. Ed Ogran in a medley of songs from "The Music Man." These included "Gary, Indiana," "Good Night, My Someone," "Marion the Librarian," and "Till There Was You."

For refreshments the hostess served a dessert plate and coffee to 21 members.

DOROTHY DIX

Another View of the Worlds Worst Husband

Dear Dorothy Dix:

Recently you answered a question on what kind of husbands are the greatest liabilities in the matrimonial market and came up with the theory that a miser is the hardest man to live with. I disagree. My vote goes to the drunkard. He has all the personalities of a lazy man, mamma's boy, philanderer and miser. The miser keeps his money. The man with a drinking problem is stingy at home, but liberal at the tavern. Drink comes before the light and fuel bills, even his children. When he does come home, broke and sad, everyone is afraid of him and he comes in unhealed in the family. He's busy about getting things done because alcohol has killed all desire for work or play. The man with a drinking problem is a mamma's boy—anyone who sticks up for him is his mamma.

This is a problem, not a fault. It cannot be cured—but arrested through God and God's channels, notably A.A. Anyone who sincerely seeks the help of Alcoholics Anonymous will be shown how to live like a man instead of a sot—Just Interested

Dear J.I. No man with a major personality defect is easy to live with. There is hope, at least, for the alcoholic. There's none at all for the miser. A stingy man is biggishly with money, time, and love. I've never known, or heard of, a miserly husband who

Dear Dorothy Dix:

Carl and I have been going together for a year. I am divorced. He is waiting for his divorce and we plan to marry as soon as he gets it. Lately, however, it seems he's pulling me off whenever I ask about the future. He always has an excuse for postponing the divorce action. Do you think he's going back to his wife? Should I quit him or keep on trying—Casey

Dear Casey: If you want to see a husband in your future, better drop Carl. He seems inclined to keep on with his present frau. Getting a man away from his family isn't as easy as it sometimes looks.

Dear Dorothy Dix:

While visiting my Aunt this summer, I met a very nice high-school senior whose family are very good friends of my aunt. He wants me to come spend a weekend with my aunt, and offers to send me a round trip ticket. Would it be proper to accept his offer — L. G.

Dear L.G. It would really be better to finance your own weekends. Can't you double up on baby-sitting to raise the cash? While there's nothing against accepting the boy's offer, it would set a precedent that couldn't be maintained. Thank him for the gesture, but tell him you family prefers that you pay your own way.

Odds Favoring Texas to Take Conference Title

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESSES

The odds favor Texas in its big Southwest Conference football battle with Southern Methodist Saturday but Coach Darrell Royal of the Longhorns can't see it.

Royal said it would be no upset if Southern Methodist won "because they have the same people they had in the summer when everybody ranked them at the top."

The Longhorn coach also wanted it known that he doesn't think SMU's Don Meredith can be shackled. "He's going to complete passes no matter how you play him," said Royal a little ably.

Anyway, Texas expects to be in good condition for the game and Southern Methodist ought to be in better shape than it was last week against Texas Tech.

Frank Jackson, the SMU halfback who switched to quarterback and ran 87 yards for a touchdown against Tech, is favoring an ankle sprain and isn't likely to play. But Meredith, who had a sore thumb, bruised hand and charley horse but played anyway against Tech, is expected to be in good condition for Texas.

Texas Christian and Baylor meet at Waco in another conference game and in this case there'll be no alibis over injuries. Both teams

LSU Still Tops as Mississippi Goes to Third

By WILL GRIMSLEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Louisiana State Tigers held on jealously today as the No. 1 team in college football but their was a hazardous, uncomfortable position.

They face their biggest challenge Saturday night at Baton Rouge, La., against a high flying Mississippi machine which forged into third place in The Associated are in top shape Baylor got no injuries in its 13-0 victory over Texas A&M last week. TCU got two fellows back from the injury and Bubba Myer.

Arkansas and Texas A&M play at Fayetteville and it looks like the Aggies may be without their right arm, Charley Milstead, the heart of the A&M offense. Milstead wasn't out for practice Monday and his status won't be determined until midweek. All other Aggies were in good shape.

Arkansas has and Steve Butler definitely out of the game with an ankle guard, is doubtful due to a shoulder hurt.

Texas Tech and Rice play intersectional games. Tech meets Tulane at New Orleans Friday night. Rice hosts Clemson Saturday night.

Texas Tech will have three first stringers who missed the SMU game back for action. They are fullback Dick Stafford, halfback Dan Gueley and guard Jere Don Mohon.

Rice had three on the injury list—quarterback Jon Schnable, guard Rufus King and halfback Burt Webb. Webb stands the best chance of being ready for play against Clemson.

Porkers Have Two Men on Sidelines

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP)—The Arkansas Razorbacks will face a fired-up Texas A&M football team Saturday. Coach Frank Broyles says.

The Aggies, down in the Southwest Conference cellar, will be ready for the Hogs. Broyles said. The Porkers resumed practice today with two men sidelined—out of the A&M game with an ankle injury, and guard Billy Laplow on the doubtful list. He has a hurt shoulder.

A scouting report on the Aggies was heard by the squad yesterday. Word from College Station, Tex., said Aggie star quarterback Charlie Ollstead had suffered an injured knee and his status for the Arkansas game wouldn't be known until midweek.

"This is a make or break game for us," Broyles said. "This game determines whether or not we can have a successful season."

A 20-0 loss to mighty Mississippi last week knocked the Razorbacks out of the No. 10 spot in the Associated Press national football poll, and down into a tie for 17th place with Washington. Mississippi moved past Texas and into the No. 3 spot.

Texas A&M has a 3-3 record.

the convention — segregation — has even cast a minor cloud over the dinner. Negro Democrats were invited, to be seated at separate tables.

Some protested and urged a boycott. Others indicated they would attend anyway.

Faubus said "The people of Arkansas are segregationists, but they are tolerant of understanding about affairs of this kind." He said he would sit where told.

Johnson already has some support in the South and has directed party strategy during his tenure as Senate majority leader.

Symington, from a border state, is widely regarded as a potential compromise candidate should there be a North-South deadlock at the convention.

Rep. Charles H. Brown (D-Mo.), on a 13-state tour to sell Symington for '68, said the senator "knows what I am going to do and has no objections."

Johnson has not objected to the declaration from Rayburn, who has presided over the last three conventions, to lead a Johnson movement.

Faubus represents another facet of the presidential picture. Though he recently belittled his own chance as a nominee, Faubus is often mentioned as a potential leader of any Southern ball or a unity movement to prevent nomination of a candidate unacceptable to the South.

Friday's dinner has been called a "harmony" affair, but Faubus says Arkansas Democrats aren't fighting so there's no need for a harmony function. He says it's to raise funds.

Other Democratic leaders interpret the gathering as a movement for harmony to insure election of a Democratic president in 1968.

Either way, the eyes of Texas and Missouri and Democrats in 48 other states—will be turned to Little Rock Friday. Arkansas could be a toehold on the "solid south" for a man seeking the Democratic presidential nomination.

Iceland to Vote on New Government

REYKJAVIK, Iceland (AP)—Early voting indicated 85 to 90 percent of Iceland's 97,000 eligible voters will cast ballots for a new government under a new law expected to give a bigger voice to right-wing Conservatives. Voting ends tonight.

In pre-election campaigning, the four major parties concentrated on such domestic issues as price controls and tax relief and ignored such former hot issues as the cold war and the U.S. radar base at Keflavik.

Inflation Battle Is Weakened

WASHINGTON (AP)—The federal battle against inflation has been weakened by the refusal of Congress to lift the interest ceiling on long-term government bonds, a Nixon committee indicates.

In its third report the Cabinet Committee on Price Stability for Economic Growth said that monetary policy now has to bear too great a burden in the fight on inflation. Vice President Richard M. Nixon heads the committee.

The economy needs a proper balance among monetary policy, budget policy and debt management, the report said. When too much falls on one element, it adds, the whole economic structure weakens.

State Party May Be Bid by Johnson

BY BOB HARING

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—A Democratic Party dinner here Friday could bring bids of Southern support for Missouri's Sen. Stuart Symington or Texas's Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson for the party's presidential nomination.

Neither is openly seeking the 1968 nomination, but both have supporters working actively for it.

Johnson won't attend, but House Speaker Sam Rayburn, fellow Texan and avowed Johnson backer, will share the speaker's platform with Symington. Joining them will be Gov. Orval E. Faubus, often mentioned as a prospective third party candidate.

About 4,000 Democrats from Arkansas and other parts of the South are expected at the affair.

What the South does at next year's national convention could decide the nominee. And what is said at Little Rock — focal point of the thorny integration issue — could bear on the South's attitude at the convention.

The issue which could disrupt

Press' weekly poll and missed the No. 2 spot by the slender margin of 30 points—the equivalent of three first place votes.

In the game, LSU risks its proud position as national champion, holder of an 18-game winning streak and leader of the poll on 13 straight occasions.

In the biggest ballot of the campaign—122 votes—the Tigers received 71 first-place votes and a total of 1,556 points to beat out the perennial poll runnerup, Northwestern.

Northwestern received fewer first-place votes than Mississippi — 23 to Ole Miss' 46—but drew enough general favor down the line to hold the No. 2 berth. Points are awarded on the basis of 10 points for a first place vote, 9 for second, etc., in the poll of sports writers and broadcasters.

Texas, 28-6 winner over Rice fell from third to fourth. The two Eastern surprises Syracuse and Penn State, both moved up a notch on the strength of impressive victories.

The top ten with first place votes in parentheses:

1. Louisiana State (71) 1,556
2. Northwestern (25) 1,474
3. Mississippi (46) 1,444
4. Texas (6) 1,227

5. Syracuse (11) 894
6. Southern California (6) 738
7. Penn State (6) 715
8. Auburn (5) 674

9. Georgia Tech (1) 344
10. Wisconsin (2) 276

The second ten:

1. Purdue 424
2. Clemson (2) 98
3. Yale (1) 44
4. Georgia 41

5. Texas Christian 429
